TAMPA/ST. PETERSBURG ARMENIAN COMMUNITY COMMEMORATES THE 100TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE ARMENIAN GENOCIDE

On April 24, 2015, Gulf Coast Armenians will join Armenians around the world in solemnly remembering the great tragedy that befell their people in 1915.

In that year, more than 1.5 million Armenians—25% percent of the entire population of Armenians in the world at that time—were massacred by the Ottoman Turks. This was the first attempt at genocide perpetrated in modern times. Indeed, the very word “genocide” (denoting the destruction of an entire people) was originally coined in 1944 to describe the policy of systematic extermination which the Ottoman regime used against the Armenian population, and the Nazis waged on European Jews.

This year marks the 100th anniversary of this dark episode, and a series of specially orchestrated events are taking place around the world and here locally in the Tampa/St. Petersburg region on and around April 24th:

Featured Event:

AN EVENING OF REMEMBRANCE

Fri. April 24—7PM at St. Hagop Armenian Church

7020 90th Avenue, Pinellas Park, FL 33782

Armenian heritage comes to life in gifted performances of song and prayer to remember those lost in the Armenian Genocide and to celebrate their ongoing legacy.
