Welcome to Holland!

Welcome to Holland!

As we enter into the New Year, I am always struck by the Armenian Church's assigned Gospel reading from the prophet Isaiah, which one Biblical translation titles 'God Is Leading You Out of Here.' In these verses, Isaiah exhorts God's people to wake up, throw off their chains and remember who they are. 'God Is Leading You Out of Here.' What a great theme as we journey into the first month of this new year, after a particularly difficult 2020. As we struggle to turn the page on the past year of pandemic, isolation and disruption-along with the devastation of war in Armenia-many of us are grasping for God's help to lead us out of here.

Our scriptures and our church tradition bring us timely wisdom to endure and triumph over years such as these, because they remind us that anything new-new beginnings, new blessings, new years- usually happen when old things falls apart. A lot of us were strained and many things fell apart this past year, because the pandemic aggravated whatever was already weakened. Some relationships were broken in divorce or estrangement, but lots of us are stuck and strained in old patterns of relating, walled in with old hurts. Some jobs were lost and businesses fell apart, but lots of us feel strained at work, trying to do the same work as before Covid, with one hand tied behind our backs. Some people have gotten very sick and some died from Covid, but lots of us are stuck between the fear of getting sick and the boredom and pain of strict social isolation.

Well wherever you may be strained or stuck, like God's people in today's reading, our scriptures also give us two ancient approaches to getting unstuck. The first is one we have spoken about much in the past difficult months. Be transparent with God and each other in the midst of our trials, because the only way forward to a blessed new year, is confessing our shortcomings in the year past. This is hard to do at work, or on Facebook, but it is just what our church community is for. I pray that in this sacred community, we can admit the fact that we don't have it all together, at least privately with God, and then out loud with those dear to us. We can admit that many things in our lives are not well, or not what we would like them to be. We can remember that no real change happens without something old falling apart, and we can trust that God is always leading us out of here: from isolation to intimacy, from despair to hope, from death to resurrection.

The second Biblical approach to finding blessings amidst many trials is this. God is indeed leading you and I into a better place, but because it's not the place we hoped for or expected, we can't even see it. Often our lives take us in a different direction than we wanted, a worse direction it seems, until we grow to see our situation with the eyes of God. There is a great illustration to guide us in this spiritual re-orientation from a book called, Welcome to Holland; a book about one mother's struggle and blessing in raising a special needs child. The author gives us this metaphor. When you are going to have a baby, it is like planning a fabulous vacation trip to Italy. You buy guidebooks and plan out your visit, you even learn a couple of phrases of Italian; all very exciting! Finally, the day for your trip arrives, you board the plane and after 8 hours the stewardship announces, 'Welcome to Holland.' Holland you say, what do you mean Holland, all my life I dreamed of going to Italy! They say there has been a change in plans, we landed in Holland and here you must stay. The author goes on to say, the important thing is that they haven't taken you to a horrible place, it is just a different place. You will have to get new guidebooks and learn a new language. It's slower paced than Italy, less flashy, but when you catch your breath and lean on your faith, you begin to see that Holland has windmills and tulips. It even has Rembrandt! Sure you can live your life regretting that you never got to Italy, but if you do, you will never be free to enjoy the very special blessings of Holland.

Welcome to Holland is about the surprising trials and grace involved in raising a special needs child, but it may as well be a life phrase for all of us whose lives are not what we dreamed or expected-but nevertheless-can be re-imagined with God's grace. So, 'welcome to Holland!' all of you whose plans for 2020 were derailed and taken in a different direction. 'Welcome to Holland!' all of you who lost some sense of well-being this past year. 'Welcome to Holland!' all of us whose dreams fade and who tend to lose our way. Because at the same time, if we have eyes to see, God is leading us out of here. Leading us into some place better, but also growing us into some one better; now and always, amen.

PARISH COUNCIL REPORT by Louise Yardumian, PC Chair

Kristos tsnav yev haydnetsav. Orhneal eh haydnutyunn Kristosi

Christ is born and revealed. Blessed is the revelation of Christ.

We once again, feel the joy of the birth and revelation of our Lord, Jesus Christ. To you, and us, this is great and good news! Among all the suffering which has taken place in Armenia/ Artsakh, the political strife in the United States, and the devastating curse of the Coronavirus in the past year, we joyfully celebrate the birth of our Lord, Jesus Christ and pray to Him for good health and peace in the world, in our country and in our hearts.

The devastating situation in Artsakh and Armenia has been heavy on our minds and hearts. Financial help for our countrymen has been remarkable. We thank you all for your generosity. Let us continue our support in our prayers, buying goods from Armenia as well as financial assistance.

Special gratitude goes to all who have turned in their pledge cards for 2021. We appreciate your commitment to our church community. We look forward to everyone pledging whatever is in your heart and what you are able to do. If you have not turned in your pledge card yet, we would greatly appreciate it if you could let us know of your intentions for the coming year.

Because of the restrictions necessary for our health, many of our events have had to be postponed or canceled. We were blessed to have our Annual Advent Dinner in early December. Through the leadership of the Events Committee and Alysia Ekizian, Advent Dinner Chair, we heard wonderful speakers, had a great dinner and a beautiful service. It was a wonderful success. The Outreach Committee reached out to parishioners by sending cards to let them know they are in our thoughts. Super!

Special thanks go to our altar servers as well as the members of the choir, who have taken part on a rotating basis, in the Holy Badarak these past several months. Their dedication is acknowledged and appreciated. If you are unable to come to church, please be sure to watch the Holy Badarak live Sunday mornings on Facebook or YouTube and later in the afternoon if you miss it! These will continue for an indefinite time.

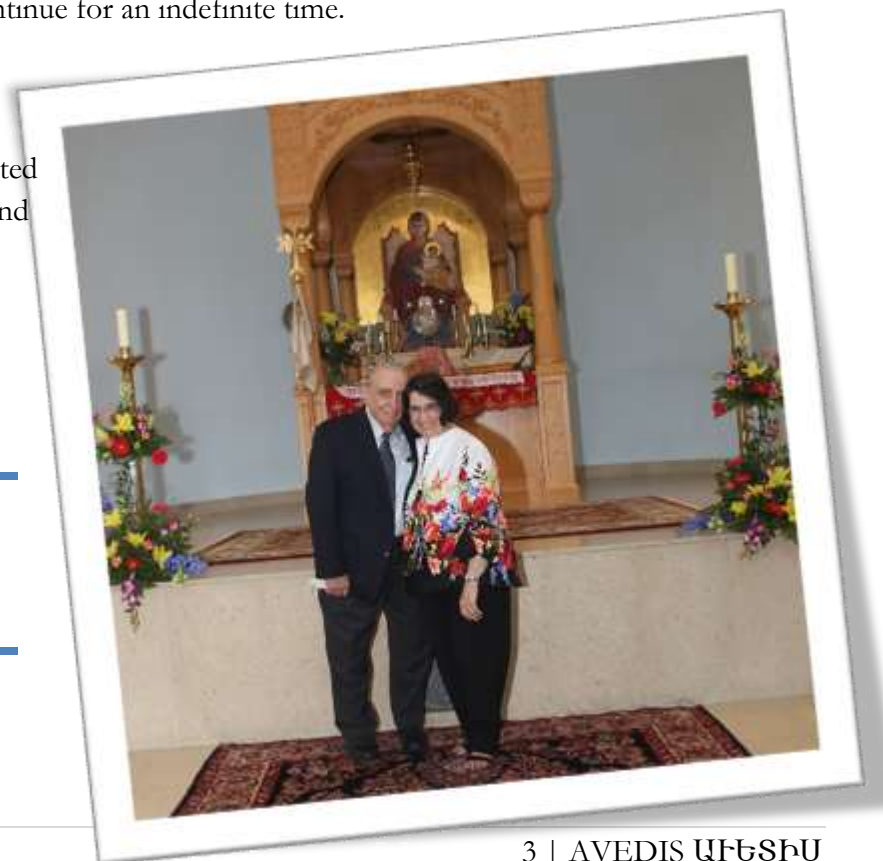

Many thanks to Fr. Hovnan, all the members of the Council, and Chrisanne Jensen, who have worked so hard, especially during this unprecedented year. May we continue to pray for peace, health and goodwill among men.

May God bless us all.

Congratulations to Dr. Haig & Louise Yardumian on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary. May God continue to bless the many fruits of your union together!

Dr. George Kamajian is still accepting prose and poetry submissions for his online literary magazine ‘Sayat Nova Today’. Please submit your work to pilafporeeg@tampabay.rr.com. To provide a taste of the magazine, we present the poem below by Sophia Manoulian Kugeares.

Reflection by Sophia Manoulian Kugeares

(upon reading Armenian Art Treasures of Jerusalem, a Christmas gift from Leonardo Alishan, 1 January 1982)

They fashioned a lovely mosaic floor
Over Susana’s crypt in the tiny chapel.
She was Artavan’s mother.

To distract the devils
And to conceal the queen’s body,
a fabulous array of Nilotic
flora and fauna spread over her.

Birds, fish, the Lamb of God
Grapes and pomegranates
Made of glassy-golden tessera,
Paved the fifth century funerary monument.
(so claimed the caption)

A living carpet on the sacred Mount of Olives.
Inscribed in crisp Armenian identifies the occupant.
Garlands of guilloche drape the floor’s edges
Like the lady’s own soft queenly hair.

Safe in her tomb, we recall her
In grand eloquent memories, words
Virgin-like in her sweet kindness
She graced the earth in white-cloaked innocence.

Her sad suffering eyes, like red hot coals
Sear my soles in pain I do not feel
Time has cancelled the pain
My father’s suffering shields me.

Her crackling chortle cries out to her sisters,
Raped by heathens on other, distant floors
Mosaic floors, lovingly laid
Among birds and flowers above her head

Is that a bloody trickle seeping though?
Deadly droplets perhaps of her sisters’ gore
Moisten her parched lips
In unholy communion.

The inscription reads, in part, “This is the tomb of the Blessed Susannah. Mother of Artavan.” A partial date is given as the 18th day of the month Hori – actually the second month of the old Armenian calendar, corresponding to September. (Armenian Art Treasures of Jerusalem, Cartazas Brothers Publishers, New Rochelle, NY, 1979. p22)

Benefit Concert Celebrating Beethoven's 250th on March 14th at 1PM

On March 14th, St. Hagop will present a Benefit Concert in celebration of Beethoven's 250th Birthday. The Program will consist of several of Beethoven's Kleinigkeiten ("little things"), his six Lieder, Op. 48 (sacred songs based on a poem by Christian Gellert), and his Sonata Pathétique (Op. 13, No. 8). Parish Council member and accomplished recital pianist Haig Yaghoobian will perform. The concert will start after Badarak at 1pm in Shahnasarian Hall and will be followed by a champagne reception. Admission is $10 at the door.

In concert with its mission to serve as the bedrock of Armenian Christian religion and culture in Southwest Florida, St. Hagop sponsors a range of events. These events have included lectures by scholars of Armenian religion and history, music performances and dinner dances.

Outreach Ministry Update by Grace Austin

Since March, all of our lives have changed. In the past, the outreach ministry has had the wonderful opportunity to visit those in our community that don't always have the opportunity or means to attend church. Something that makes the church a community is the ability to share stories, spend time together, hug and visit.

With all of the changes, outreach ministry teamed up with the ACYOA and Young Professionals. Our goal was to help those that were unable to attend church still feel like a part of the community. We gathered (safely of course, and some via Zoom) at our usual monthly meeting, enjoyed spiritual uplifting conversation with Fr. Hovnan and took to the task of making sure our community received love through the holidays. We signed more than 80 Thanksgiving and Christmas Cards, sending holiday greetings to those in our community far and wide! Some cards ended up with parishioners that were in the hospital, nursing home or care centers where visiting opportunities are now so limited.

Not to be left out, the Sunday School jumped in to help, creating and signing Valentine's Day Cards, which will be sent to more of our parish that might need a little extra love!

Special thanks to the Arsenault Family, who donated the stamps for our endeavor. Even more thanks to the young professionals that have always given their time to share the love! St. Paul's letter to the Thessalonians charges all of us to "Encourage one another and build one another up." (1 Th 5:11) We hope each of you will take this command to heart and use this as inspiration to share the love!

Our hope is that this small act has brought some cheer to our parish, but outreach and sending the love never ends. Please be encouraged to pick up the phone or send a note to someone in 2021. We hope that our visits will once again resume, but until then we will keep calling and writing to bring cheer to our extended family at St. Hagop.

Ministry to Artsakh & Armenia

St. Hagop Aid to Artsakh & Armenia

The St. Hagop Parish Council unanimously voted to give $10,000 for Artsakh humanitarian aid from church savings. We are gratified to report that this donation was matched and exceeded by our community with an additional $22,351 donated. St. Hagop has sent $32,351 to our Diocese, who is transferring 100% of funds to Artsakh Aid. We wrapped up this phase of our outreach to Armenia on Dec 31, 2020, and will continue to help in smaller, more direct projects as needs arise. Great thanks to all who participated and responded to Artsakh in their time of need!

Sunday School Christmas Ornaments for Artsakh Aid

On behalf of our entire Sunday School, we thank all those who participated in our Sunday School's Ornaments for Artsakh Christmas Outreach. We raised $400, and will be sending this money to the Artsakh Relocation Project, a wonderful direct aid project started by a long-time servant of our Diocese, Alex Ouzounian. Learn more at www.artsakhrelocation.org. St. Hagop has matched funds to this campaign and will be sending along another $650, for a total contribution of $1,050.
